Text Correction

The authors wish to make the following correction to the original publication [1].

The Data Availability Statement should be updated to:

"The dataset used as data analysis example in this article was initially processed by NanoString Company using the recent new biotechnology, and has been studied in the past two years by various researchers for different purposes. However, the dataset is not published."

The authors state that the statistical conclusions are unaffected. This correction was approved by the Academic Editor. The original publication has also been updated.
