
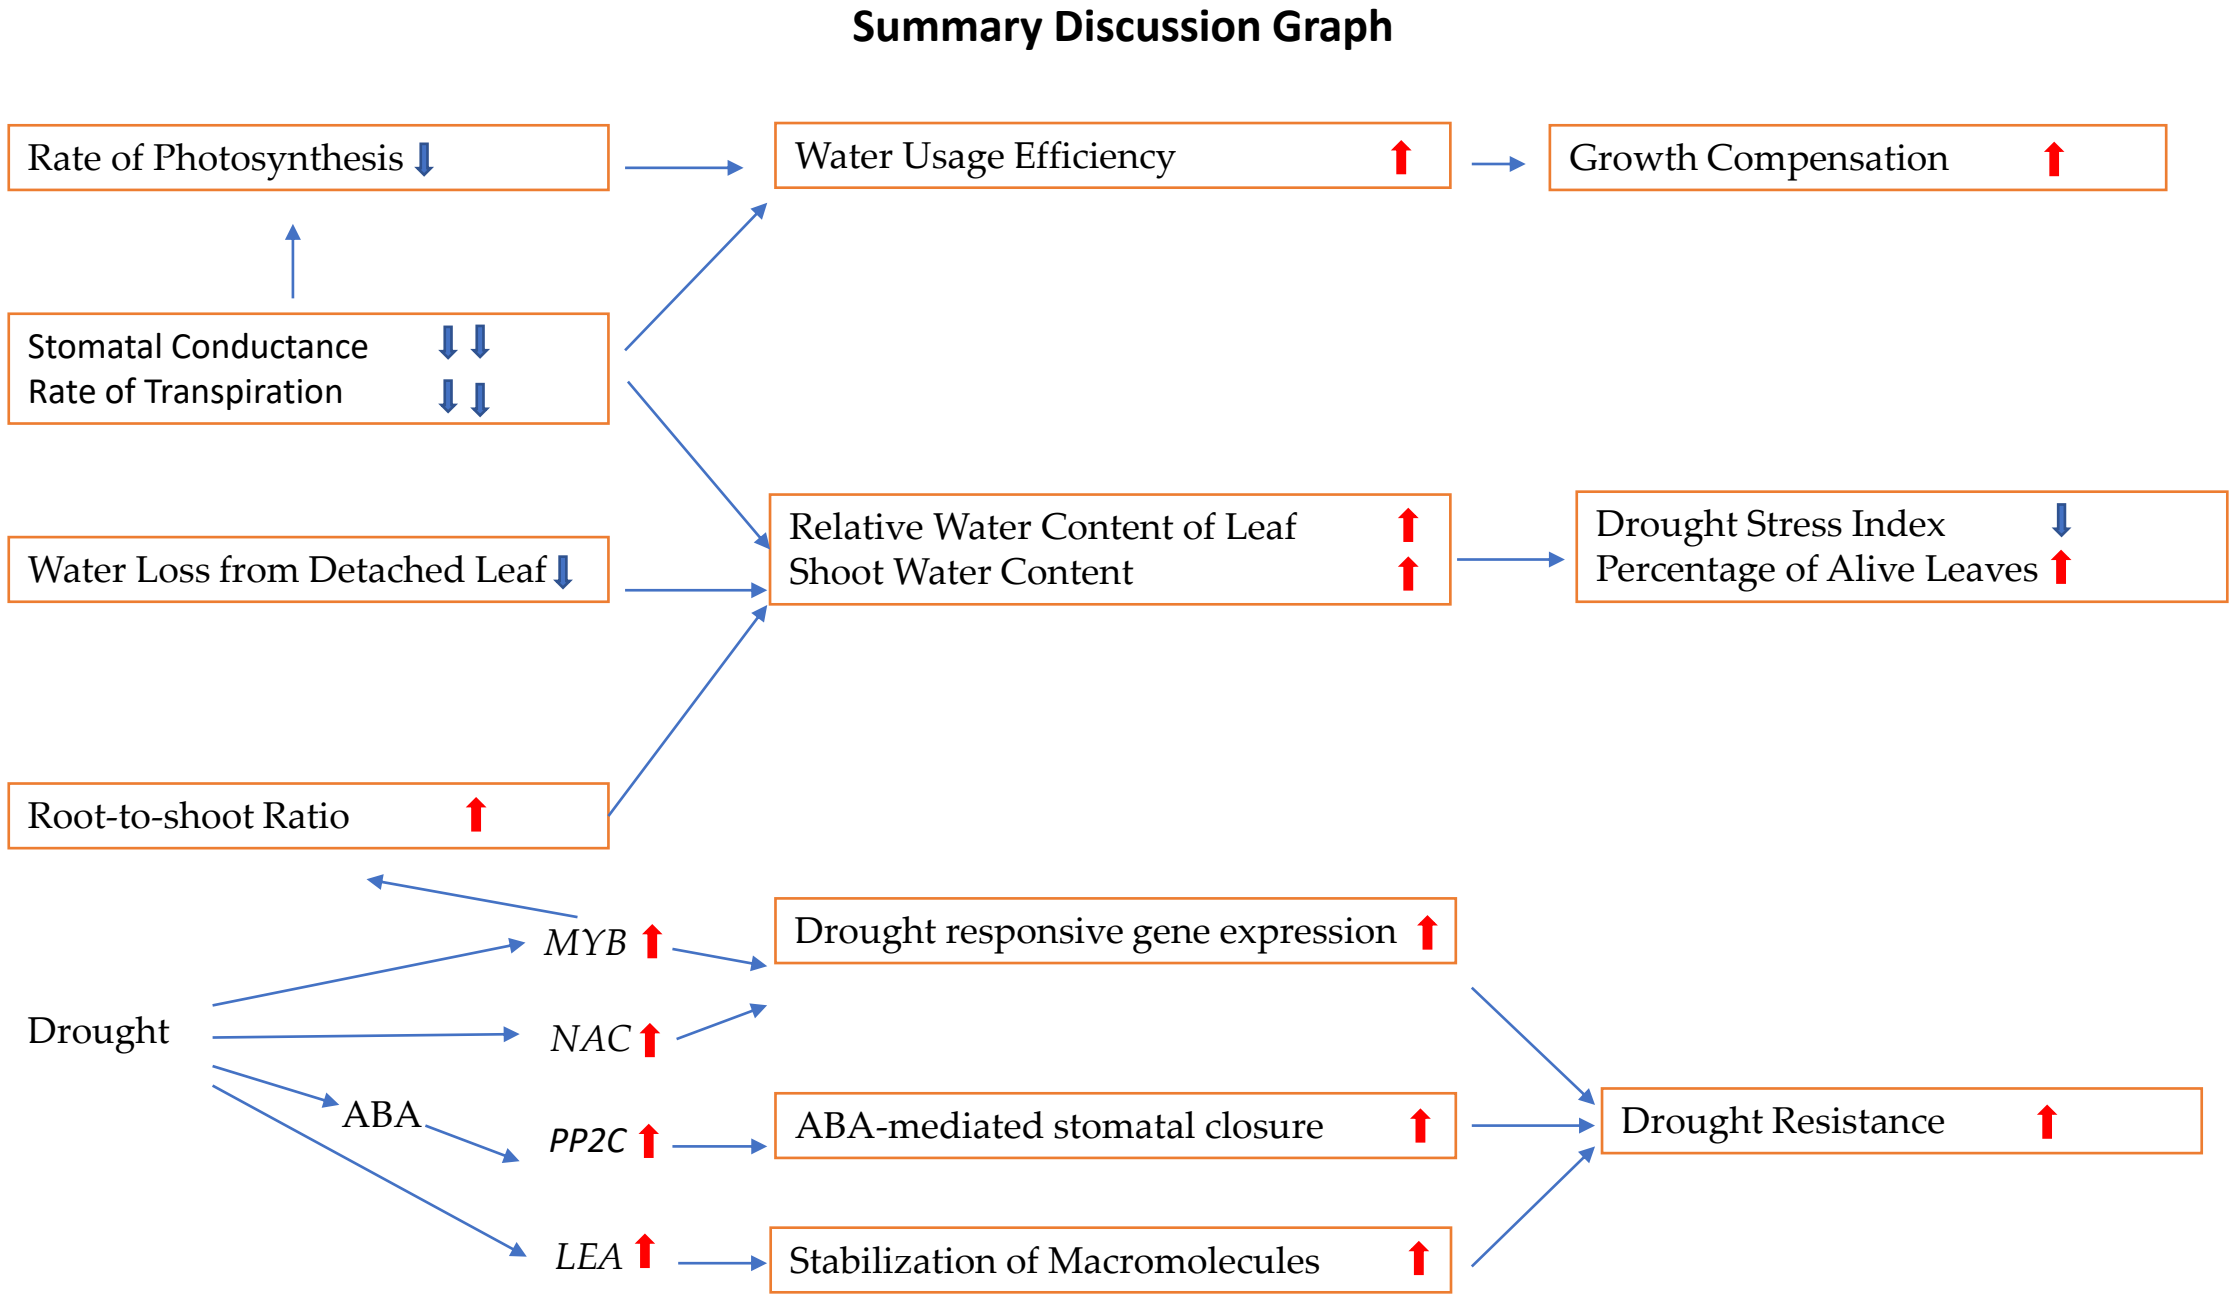

Figure S3. Priming elicits a more effective drought stress response by drought avoidance and expressions of drought tolerance-related genes.