
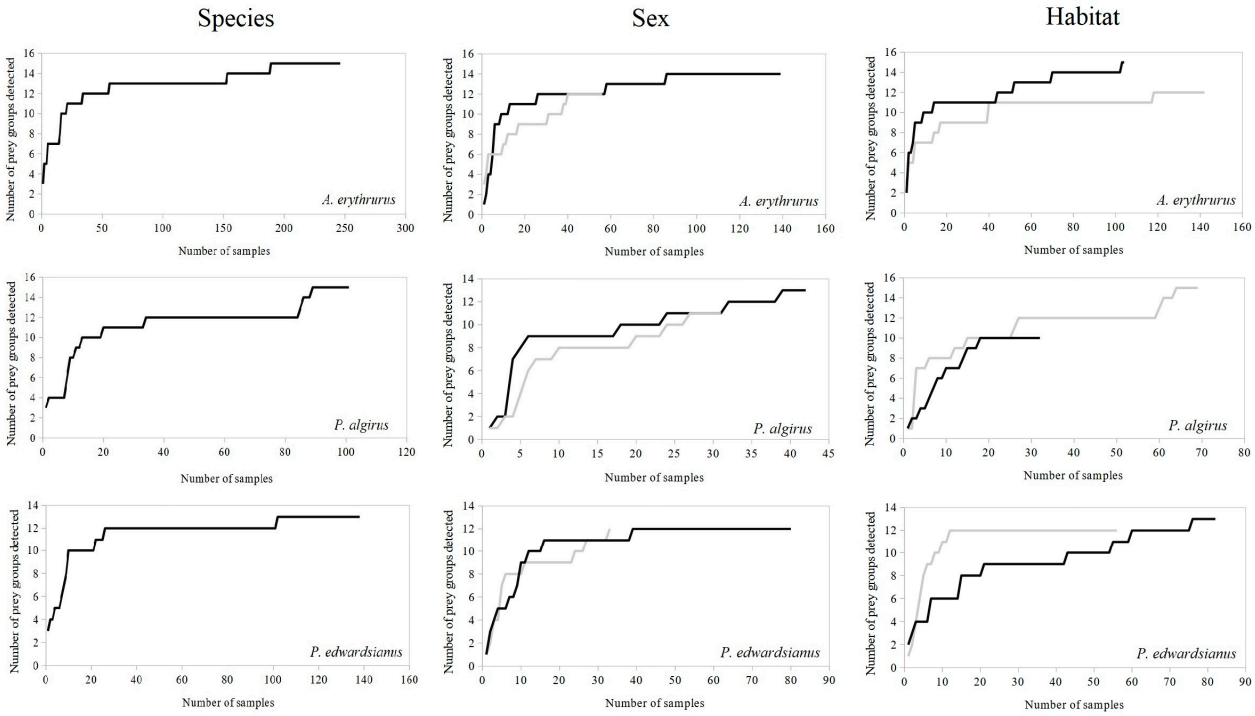

Figure S1: Saturation curves showing the increase in the number of detected prey groups with the number of samples for each species, both sexes (males [black] and females [grey]) and habitat types (forest [black] and dunes [grey]).