Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

Welcome to our Special Issue, 'Exploring Acute Coronary Syndrome: Insights from Basic and Clinical Research'. Acute coronary syndrome (ACS) is a critical cardiovascular condition encompassing unstable angina, non-ST-segment elevation myocardial infarction (NSTEMI), and ST-segment elevation myocardial infarction (STEMI). As a leading cause of morbidity and mortality worldwide, ACS demands an intricate understanding of its pathophysiology, risk factors, and evolving therapeutic approaches. This Special Issue aims to delve into the realms of basic and clinical research, offering a comprehensive exploration of ACS.

Join us on this enlightening journey by submitting manuscripts including original studies and reviews that will unravel the complexities of ACS and will improve our understanding and management of this significant cardiovascular challenge.

Biomedicines (ISSN 2227-9059) is an open access journal devoted to all aspects of research on human health and disease, the discovery and characterization of new therapeutic targets, therapeutic strategies, and research of naturally driven biomedicines, pharmaceuticals, and biopharmaceutical products. Topics include pathogenesis mechanisms of diseases, translational medical research, biomaterial in biomedical research, natural bioactive molecules, biologics, vaccines, gene therapies, cell-based therapies, targeted specific antibodies, recombinant therapeutic proteins, nanobiotechnology driven products, targeted therapy, bioimaging, biosensors, biomarkers, and biosimilars. The journal is open for publication of studies conducted at the basic science and preclinical research levels. We invite you to consider submitting your work to Biomedicines, be it original research, review articles, or developing Special Issues of current key topics.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.
