The authors wish to make the following correction to this paper [1]. In the article it is mentioned that "the study obtained the approval of the university's Students Vice-Chancellery and the government bodies of the involved academic centers and also by the Ethics Committee of the University of Vigo." However, it should read: "The study obtained the approval of the university's Students Vice-Chancellery and the government bodies of the involved academic centers" only.

The authors apologize for the inconvenience.
