

Figure S1. Grayscale display of raw data.

Figure shows the grayscale display of the original collected data of line 1 to line 10. The noise interference in the original data is strong, and the data needs to be analyzed and processed.