

Figure S3. Activation of C3LP in BY-2 cells after exposure to acetaldehyde. Four-d cultured cells were treated with various concentration of acetaldehyde as indicated. Protease inhibitors were added to cell extracts to a final concentration of 0.1 mM and caspase assay was performed as described in Materials and Methods. Statistical differences compared to controls are indicated by asterisks. (* $P < 0.05$, Student's t -test).