

Figure S1. Western blot was used to compare the LC3B II accumulation in chloroquine-treated fibroblast lysates with cerebellar lysates from mtDNA mutator mouse. The size difference of the two protein bands suggests that the protein present in the cerebellar lysate is LC3B I and not II.