

Supplementary Materials: Documentation of EB and EUC Programs

The US Department of Labor publishes reports titled “Extended Benefits Trigger Notice” and “Emergency Unemployment Compensation Trigger Notice.” The Extended Benefits Trigger Notice reports whether a state has triggered on extended benefits and when the extended-benefits-period began. The Emergency Unemployment Compensation Trigger Notice reports whether different tiers of the Emergency Unemployment Compensation program were active.

Background on the Emergency Unemployment Compensation program enacted in June 2008 is provided by Fujita \(2010\), Rothstein \(2011\), and Whittaker and Isaacs \(2014\).

These reports are accessible through the Unemployment Insurance Data dashboard (<https://oui.doleta.gov/unemploy/DataDashboard.asp>, accessed on 27 September 2023) by clicking on “Weekly Claims and Trigger Notice Archives,” which brings up https://oui.doleta.gov/unemploy/claims_arch.asp, accessed on 27 September 2023.

The EUC law expired June 2, 2010. Under EUC law, the last date eligibility could be established for new participants was May 22, 2010. Because EUC 2008 Trigger Notice No. 2010-24 is effective with respect to the week beginning on June 27 and ending July 03, it now shows that states have triggered “off” Third and Fourth Tier EUC since claimants ending a tier may not advance to the next tier. Under the phase-out provisions, claimants may receive their remaining entitlement for the tier in which they are collecting.

I.U.R reflects 13-week period ending June 12, 2010.

T.U.R reflects avg. seasonally adjusted T.U.R for 3-month period ending May, 2010.
