

Supplementary Figure

Supplementary Figure S1. PCA (principal component analysis) biplot analysis performed on 46 Sylvestris accessions, using the leaves and petioles measured data. The red and blue ellipse circles enclose those variables that fall into the same cluster, representing an 80% confidence level. The green arrows indicate eigenvectors representing the strength and direction of the trait correlation.