Dear Colleagues,

I am pleased to announce the winner of the inaugural Catalysts Travel Award, given to one outstanding post-doctoral researcher. The Travel Award for 2017 was granted to Michiel Dusselier, a postdoctoral researcher in Dr. Bert Sel's laboratory at KU-Leuven. Dr. Dusselier was selected from an applicant pool of 181 post-doctoral scholars.

Dr. Dusselier's research focuses on new catalytic processes, functional bioplastics, and zeolite synthesis. He plans to attend the 7th FEZA conference in Sophia, Bulgaria to talk about his work on synthesis of novel zeolites.

Congratulations to Dr. Dusselier and thanks to all who applied.

Editor-in-Chief,
Keith L. Hohn
