

Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to announce the initiation of the annual Forests Awards.

Two Travel Awards for postdocs or PhD students consisting of CHF 800 / USD 850 / EUR 700 each will be awarded to attend forestry related conferences.

Eligibility:

The candidate must be enrolled as a full-time PhD student or a post-doctoral researcher (10 years or less since completing their PhD).

The candidate must be registered to attend and present an oral talk or poster at an international forestry conference/congress (e.g., IUFRO, Soil Science Society of America, Society of American Foresters...)

Editor-in-Chief,

Prof. Dr. Timothy A. Martin

2019 TRAVEL AWARDS

FOR POSTDOCS OR PhD STUDENTS

Candidates' Requirements:

- a. Submit a resume/CV
- b. The nominee should include a brief summary (one page) of their research interests, accomplishments, and expected benefits from attending the conference/congress
- c. A letter of support from their supervisor and should include:
 - Confirmation that the nominee is a PhD or post-doctoral student, describe the overall strengths of the candidate and eligibility for the travel award; and confirm that they will present an oral talk/poster at the conference.
 - Relevance and expected benefits of the nominee's attendance at the conference.

Please submit your applications including all the above as a PDF file online (<http://www.mdpi.com/journal/forests/awards>) before 31 December 2018. The Awards will be assessed by an Evaluation Committee and granted by the end of January 2019.