Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

The Special Issue series "Current Advances in Clinical Neurology" is exclusively dedicated to reviews and systematic reviews, placing a spotlight on comprehensive evaluations of the latest advancements in the field. Focused on consolidating existing knowledge, the series presents a collection of in-depth analyses, critiques, and summaries that critically examine and synthesize the current state of clinical neurology. By selectively featuring review and systematic review manuscripts, the series aims to provide a rigorous and consolidated understanding of recent developments, offering valuable insights for clinicians, researchers, and practitioners in the neurology community.
