Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

We have seen remarkable innovations in glaucoma treatment and management over the last ten years. The way we treat glaucoma is continuously changing and improving with the introduction of novel medications, laser procedures, and surgical methods. Patients' quality of life has never been put so much at the center of our glaucoma management as today. In this Special Issue, we would like to highlight some of the recent advances in glaucoma treatment and management that have the potential to change our daily clinical practice.
