Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue is dedicated to advancing the understanding and management of allergic diseases and asthma. Our primary aim is to provide a comprehensive overview of the current research status, emphasizing the core problems faced in the diagnosis and treatment of allergy. We seek to explore innovative approaches, share clinical insights, and catalyze the translation of research findings into effective medical interventions. We aim to contribute to improved patient outcomes and enhance the overall quality of care in allergology.

In this Special Issue, we will focus on innovations and advances in allergy and asthma pathogenesis and management and provide useful information for daily practice and future research. We aim to create a platform for interdisciplinary collaboration to explore holistic approaches to allergy and asthma.
