Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue aims to gather a collection of research articles that explore various aspects of commodity and other financial markets (e.g., stock markets, cryptocurrencies markets, bond markets, FX markets, etc.) and their interconnections, with a particular emphasis on the impact of current events such as the war in Ukraine and the COVID-19 crisis. The focus of the issue is to provide a comprehensive examination of the current state of research on financial and commodity markets, and to identify relevant areas for future

The purpose of this issue is to provide a platform for researchers, practitioners, and policymakers to exchange ideas and share their insights on the latest developments in financial and commodity markets. The ultimate goal is to advance our understanding of these markets and their role in the economy, and to inform the development of policies and strategies that promote market stability and efficiency.

This Special Issue will be a valuable addition to the existing literature on financial and commodity markets by providing an in-depth exploration of the current state of research, and by highlighting areas for future research.
