Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to comprise an extended version of conference papers from the 7th International Conference on Cyber Security and Information Engineering (ICCSIE2022), which will be held in Brisbane, Australia during 23–25 September 2022. The conference has attracted hundreds of participants and becomes a platform for researchers from various application areas to discuss problems and solutions in the area, identify new issues, and shape future directions for research.

The purpose of this Special Issue is devoted to exploring and promoting the research and applications in the field of cyber security and information engineering to achieve secure smart environment and to tackle the targets and challenges associated with the Internet of Everything. We invite the submission of original research papers in the fields of theoretical, experimental, and applied computer science and information engineering, and we will select papers on sensing-related topics to be published in this Special Issue. We thank presenters and speakers in advance for your attendance at this conference and look forward to a stimulating exchange.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Sensors is a leading journal devoted to fast publication of the latest achievements of technological developments and scientific research in the huge area of physical, chemical and biochemical sensors, including remote sensing and sensor networks. Both experimental and theoretical papers are published, including all aspects of sensor design, technology, proof of concept and application. Sensors organizes Special Issues devoted to specific sensing areas and applications each year.
