Message from the Guest Editors

Environmental assessment is a methodology that ensures that the environmental effects of decisions are taken into account before the decisions are made. Different environmental assessment approaches are applied in practice, depending if the environmental consequences of a plan, project or product shall be considered.

Environmental management is that part of the management of an organization that deals with the operational and official environmental (protection) concerns of the organization. It serves to ensure sustainable environmental compatibility of company products and processes on the one hand and the behavior of employees and stakeholders on the other.

Issue deals with The Special all dimensions of environmental assessment. its purpose. scope. methodologies, consequences, and key actors. Addressed issues are, but are not limited to: Strategic Environmental Assessment; Environmental Impact Assessment; Life Cycle Footprint Assessment: Environmental Assessment: Management; Co-Management; Environmental Monitoring; Bioindication
