

Supplementary Figure S1. Flow diagram showing the case selection process. Adult patients with suspected malignant brain tumors in supratentorial regions were subject to imaging evaluations. In those eligible for surgical resection using 5-ALA, intraoperative fluorescence intensity was measured ex vivo. The final analysis included only astrocytic tumors.