

Figure S1. Melting peaks of candidate reference genes. The melting curve of every reference gene by RT-qPCR is a single peak, which indicates the specificity and reliability of the primer pair used for the further analysis of gene expression.