Supplementary materials

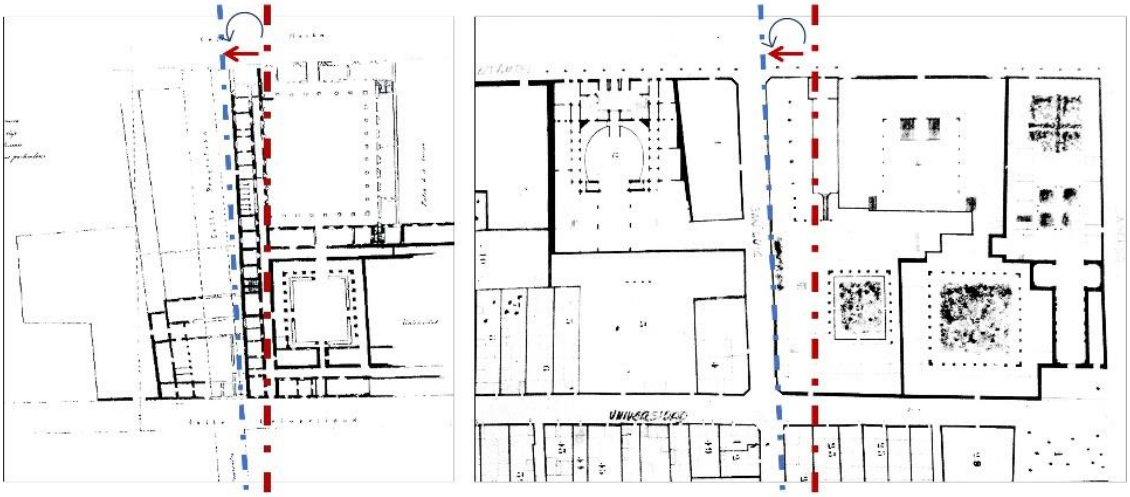

SM1: Plan showing the Foundational Layout of Córdoba (1577). Author: Lorenzo Suárez de Figueroa. Source: Modified from https://unciencia.unc.edu.ar/sin-categoria/la-arquitectura-de-cordoba-en-un-click/. The red rectangle shows the lands given to the Jesuits.

SM2: Plan by Antonio Forcada (1749-1750). The red rectangle indicates the location of the refectory. Source: Contributed by M. R. Medina.

SM3. Left: Survey of the Plan for the Monserrat National College (University of Cordoba) and the Opening of the Calle Duarte Quirós 1834-1875. Source: Modified from a contribution by the architect, María Rebeca Medina. Right: Detail from the Machado Cadastre Plan, 1889. Source: contribution by the architect M. R. Medina. Modified from the Municipal historical archives of the city of Cordoba.

SM4. a) Typological model of the refectory. Source: Modified from: https://unciencia.unc.edu.ar/arqueologia/patrimonio-jesuitico-los-trabajos-arqueologicos-continuaran-al-menos-dos-anios-mas-en-el-centro-cultural-paseo-cordoba-de-la-nueva-andalucia/ b) Reconstruction of the typological model of the Refectory. Source: Modified from: https://unciencia.unc.edu.ar/arqueologia/patrimonio-jesuitico-los-trabajos-arqueologicos-continuaran-al-menos-dos-anios-mas-en-el-centro-cultural-paseo-cordoba-de-la-nueva-andalucia/.

