

Figure S4. Data point scatter and least-products regression lines for the individual devices (panels) and all exercises pooled together, excluding power snatch, for the parameter  $v_{\text{mean}}$ . Regressions were generated without power snatch because there appeared to be a systematic difference in  $v_{\text{mean}}$  between devices and criterion measures.