

Figure S5: Pie charts represent the raw data classification in to different filtering reads in calf and bull, whereas different color ratios represent the proportions of different components.