Puppy Development Survey

Start of Block: Default Question Block

Investigating the impact of online training on puppy behaviour and dog owner relationships

We are inviting you to take part in a research study. Before you decide, it is important that you know why we are doing the study and what is involved. Please read the following information carefully.

What is the purpose of the study?
Although we know that experiences that puppies have early in life can influence their later behaviour, we still need to learn a great deal about how we can best help puppies to grow into well adjusted adult dogs. A new online training programme has been developed and we would like to see whether it is benefitting puppies and their owners and if so in what way. For this reason we are asking people who have participated in the online programme as well as those who have not, to complete a short, anonymous online survey so that we can start to understand the benefits of this specific training intervention.

Am I eligible to take part?
You are being invited to take part because you are over 18 years of age and the owner of a dog between 3 months of age and 2 years of age

Do I have to take part?
Participation is completely voluntary. You should only take part if you want to and choosing not to take part will not disadvantage you in anyway.

What will I be asked to do?
After you have read this information sheet you will be asked to provide informed consent by electronically agreeing to a number of statements. You will then have access to the survey questions which should take no more than 15-20 minutes to complete. The questions cover a number of areas including some general information about you and your dog, as well as questions relating to how you feel about your dog (using the MONASH Dog Owner Relationship Scale), your dog's behaviour and any training you may have done with your dog. No personal information which can identify you will be asked and as the questionnaire is anonymous, once you have submitted it we will not be able to remove your information as it will not be identifiable. You are free to stop answering questions at any point.

Will I be paid expenses for taking part?
You will not be paid to participate in the study.

What are the possible benefits / risks of taking part?
There will be no specific direct benefits to you from taking part in the survey. However, the information that we obtain from the survey is likely to help us to help dogs and owners in the future. There should be no risk to you from taking part in the survey. If by taking part in the survey you realise that you would like to seek advice for your dog's behaviour or training we would recommend that you look for an appropriately certificated trainer or behaviourist.

Will anyone know I have taken part?
No one will know you have taken part, as your responses are anonymous.

Where will my data be stored?
The data obtained from the study will be stored securely on the university OneDrive with password protected access. Only the researchers will have access to it. Paper copies will be stored in a secure cabinet/office at the University. The data from this study may be put in an Open Access repository for other researchers to use in future research. If this happens, all data will be anonymous.

What will happen if I don't want to carry on with the study?
As you have completed the study anonymously it will not be possible to remove the data provided, as we will not be able to identify you in any way.

What will happen to the results of the research study? The results of the survey will be shared with the funding body who is running the online training (Zigzag) who may choose to distribute the information via their website. Any data that the research team deems of value to the field of animal behaviour will be written up for publication in peer reviewed journals and presented at scientific meetings.

Who is organising and funding the research?
This research is being organised by Daniel Mills and Helen Zulch at the University of Lincoln and is being funded by Zigzag as a subsidiary of PetCare Services LTD.

Who has reviewed the study?
All research conducted by the University of Lincoln is looked at by an independent group of people, called a Research Ethics Committee, to protect your interests. This study has been reviewed and given favourable opinion by a University of Lincoln Research Ethics Committee [2023_9472].

What if there is a problem?
It is very unlikely that this study would cause you any harm. If you have a concern or a complaint about any aspect of this study, you should ask to speak to the researchers who will do their best to answer your questions. The researchers contact details are given at the end of this information sheet. If you remain unhappy and wish to complain formally, you can make a formal complaint through the University complaints procedure or by contacting ethics@lincoln.ac.uk.

Thank you for agreeing to take part in our survey. This is a collaboration between Zigzag and the University of Lincoln, aimed at helping us understand important impacts on puppy development. We are not gathering personally identifiable information about you, but we would like to know a little bit about your dog, what training you have done and his/her behaviour.

If you have more then one puppy please answer the questions in relation to only one puppy and the same one throughout.

Before that we will start we need to check a few things.
Are you over 18 years old and the primary carer of the puppy you will be answering about?
