Supplementary Materials for

"Disentangled Autoencoder for Cross-Stain Feature Extraction in Pathology Image Analysis"

1. Materials

The images used for training and testing the models were downloaded from https://anhir.grand-challenge.org/Data (registration required). From the whole collection, only the COAD series was used, and the following table details the grouping of the images/series into training and testing as well and the number of images (whole slide images–WSI) available for each series. The "New ID" was used internally for training/testing and reporting.

Table S1: The list of samples from ANHIR collection used in the reported experiments.
