

Supplementary Figure S1. Heat maps representing visual saliency derived from the Matlab Saliency Toolbox [44] overlaid on peak facial expressions for the five identities used in the current study. Hot colors (e.g., red, yellow) represent higher saliency locations and cool colors (e.g., blue) represent lower saliency locations.

A) Anger

B) Fear

C) Happiness

D) Neutral

E) Sadness

