

Figure S1. Detailed production process of two labneh Ambaris productions made earthenware jars along with the collected samples resulting from each step. RM codes followed by production days refer to raw milks added to both jars during productions. The fermented milks collected from the Jar A and the Jar B are coded as A or B respectively followed by the corresponding sampling day of production.