

Supplementary Figure S1. RAC was measured by counting the number of alveoli passed by a vertical line from the center of the respiratory bronchioles to the border of the pleura.