

Principal component analysis (PCA) plot demonstrating group level proteomic profile differences between lung cancer patients and control group

Principal component analysis (PCA) plot demonstrating group level proteomic profile differences between radon exposed (RA+) and low exposure (Ra-) lung cancer patients