

Supplementary materials

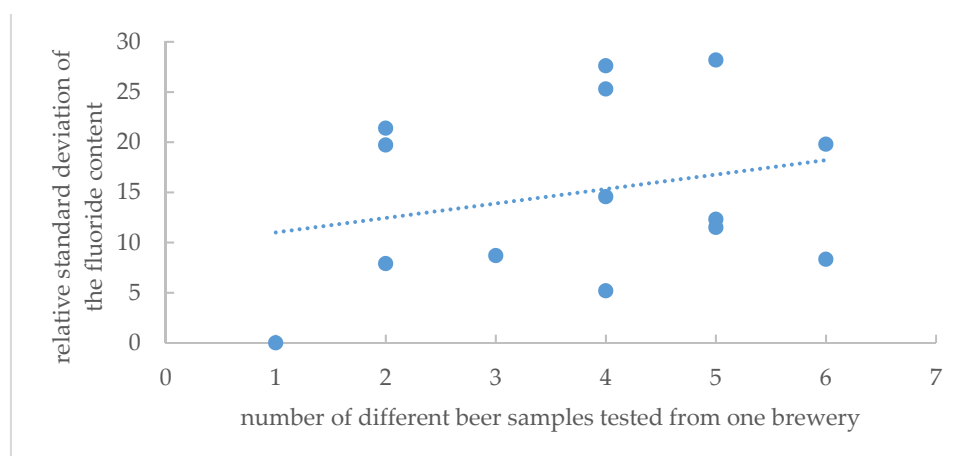

Figure S1. Scatter plot of the relationship between the number of different beer samples tested from one brewery and the relative standard deviation of the fluoride content in beers (from that brewery).