Supplementary Table S1. Semi-structured interview guide.

Phase	Guiding question
Group introduction	Presentation of the study and objectives Explanation of confidentiality, anonymity, and consent Brief introduction of participants
Discussion	1. How would you describe a healthy relationship? 2. Do you think there are differences in how men and women are expected to behave in a relationship? 3. When we talk about dating violence, what things come to mind? 4. Do you think dating violence is common or rare? Why? 5. Are there situations or behaviors within a dating relationship that are not considered a form of violence? Can you give examples and explain? 6. What do you think could be done to prevent violence in dating relationships? 7. What approaches or tools do you think could be used to prevent dating violence?