Figure S1. PCA with five principal components models generated from the NMR metabolomics data set. Zebrafish were treated with chitosan (green dot) and control (red dot) Ellipses represent a 95% confidence limit of the normal distribution of each cluster.