

Figure S6 Venn map of differentially expressed metabolites in different groups

Note: The non-overlapping regions of the Venn map represent differential metabolites specific to that differential subgroup, and the overlapping regions represent differential metabolites common to several differential groups that overlap.

