

Figure S1. The growth rates of the CrGH insertion mutant and the wild type cc4533 strains grown under various culturing conditions. a and b represented the cell growth and dry weight of C. reinhardtii under the normal culture and high light stress conditions, respectively. The line chart represented the cells number and the histogram represented cells dry weight.

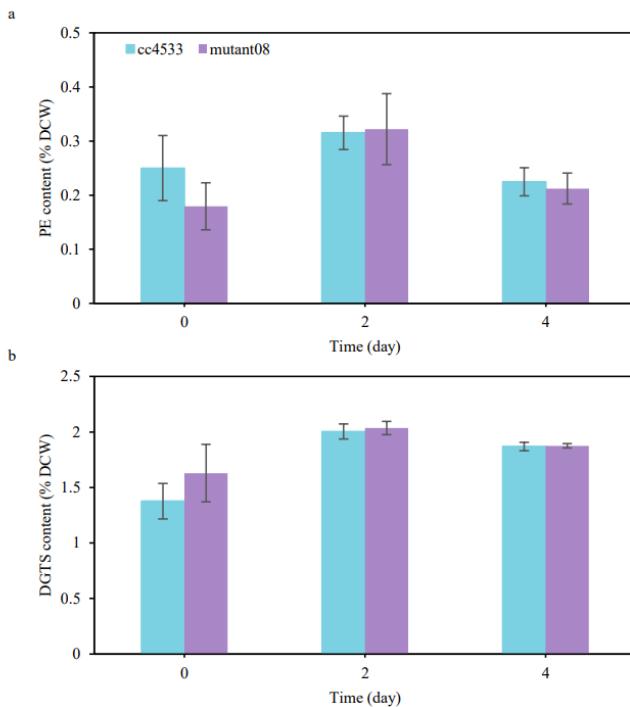

Figure S2. The extraplastidic membrane lipids contents in the CrGH insertion mutant and wild type cc4533. a. The PE contents. b. The DGTS contents. Data are presented as average \pm SD ($n = 3$).
