

Figure S3. Estimated number of cells of the daughter corm from January to April taking into account the measured cell size, and the volume of the daughter corm. Different letters indicate significant differences between dates ($P < 0.05$).

