Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

The aim of the special issue is to study the relationship between strategic management and national contexts from a comparative perspective. Researches that contribute to our understanding of how context, and in particular different administrative traditions, affects strategic management in different countries are welcome. The guest editors will look for a diversity of articles from different states (Napoleonic, including Mediterranean, Rechtsstaat, and Anglo-Saxon and the Scandinavian types; Kickert 2007) and models of administrative culture (the Weberian and the “public interest” administrative cultures; Pollitt and Bouckaert 2004).
