Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

Entrepreneurship education has recently seen extensive growth among academics and businesspeople due to the relevance it provides to entrepreneurship competencies as an essential factor to support ambition in young people to start their own businesses and generate their own employment opportunities.

This Special Issue is aimed to collect contributions that provide an improved understanding of the role of the university in developing an entrepreneurial mindset and how this mindset is understood, promoted, and developed in the context of universities. Topics may include (but are not limited to):

- Entrepreneurship education and leaning
- Entrepreneurial universities through policies
- Innovation and economic development
- Management of higher education systems
- Quality in higher education through innovation
- Knowledge economy
- Entrepreneurial ecosystem
