Leadership and Sustainability: Building a Better Future

Message from the Guest Editors

Although not limited to only these topics, we call for articles addressing:

- Cross cultural and global perspectives of leadership and sustainability and the emergence of leadership and sustainability in developing countries and the role of sociocultural forces in different contexts.
- Multi-level analysis of sustainable leadership (individual, organizational, industry, community, global).
- Long-term impact assessment of sustainable leadership initiatives.
- Leadership and sustainability in non-corporate settings (e.g., non-profits, government, academia).
- Technology and innovation to support and develop leadership and sustainability for a better future.
- Corporate social responsibility and sustainable leadership.
- Challenges and barriers to future leaders of sustainability.
- Challenges and role of small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) in sustainable development.
- Entrepreneurial leadership and sustainable development.
- Sustainability strategies, governance, policy-making, and effective practices.
- Globalisation, multinational companies and sustainable planning and implementation of sustainable policy.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Welcome to Administrative Sciences, the journal aims to advance and communicate knowledge concerning management theory and practice both in public administration and in profit organizations; it encourages submissions that build on interdisciplinary research in related fields, such as business, economics, political science, gender studies, psychology, sociology, physiology, communication theory or artificial intelligence and their implications on management, organizations and the society. Join us on a journey through the Administrative Sciences, where management merges with innovation.
