

Special Issue

Research on Female Entrepreneurship and Diversity —2nd Edition

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue focuses on the barriers and opportunities for underrepresented groups in entrepreneurship, including but not limited to female entrepreneurship and intersectionality. The importance of studying diversity in entrepreneurship is growing as the market realm acknowledges the benefits of inclusiveness and diverse viewpoints. The articles in this Special Issue explore how underrepresented groups experience entrepreneurship differently and the ways to foster greater diversity and inclusion. We request that, before submitting a manuscript, interested authors initially submit a proposed title and an abstract of 300–500 words summarizing their intended contribution. Please send this to the (cabazan@mun.ca) or the Assistant Editor Ms. Zoya Zhang (zoya.zhang@mdpi.com). They will review abstracts to ensure proper fit within the scope of the Special Issue. Full manuscripts will undergo double-blinded peer review.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Welcome to Administrative Sciences, the journal aims to advance and communicate knowledge concerning management theory and practice both in public administration and in profit organizations; it encourages submissions that build on interdisciplinary research in related fields, such as business, economics, political science, gender studies, psychology, sociology, physiology, communication theory or artificial intelligence and their implications on management, organizations and the society. Join us on a journey through the Administrative Sciences, where management merges with innovation.
