

Special Issue

Comprehensive Studies on the Development of International Business

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to explore the multifaceted dynamics underpinning cross-border trade, investment, strategic alliances, and organizational adaptation. We welcome submissions on areas of interest such as the following topics:

- Cross-border strategic adaptation: dynamic capabilities, digital transformation, and resilience;
- Global value chain evolution: nearshoring, reshoring, and network diversification;
- SMEs and emerging-market multinationals—internationalization processes, resources, and performance;
- Digital platforms and international entrepreneurship—ecosystems and regulatory implications;
- Sustainability and ESG in international operations—compliance, green investments, and stakeholder governance;
- Political and institutional cross-border risks—trade regulations, sanctions, geopolitical tension;
- International human resource management—virtual teams, global talent mobility, and cultural integration;
- Comparative studies across regions—Africa, Latin America, South Asia, Southeast Asia, and the MENA region;
- International M&A and alliances—integration strategies, cultural synergies, and failure risks.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Welcome to Administrative Sciences, the journal aims to advance and communicate knowledge concerning management theory and practice both in public administration and in profit organizations; it encourages submissions that build on interdisciplinary research in related fields, such as business, economics, political science, gender studies, psychology, sociology, physiology, communication theory or artificial intelligence and their implications on management, organizations and the society. Join us on a journey through the Administrative Sciences, where management merges with innovation.
