Digital Entrepreneurship Ecosystems: Integrating Talent, Stakeholder Engagement and Institutional Processes to Support Regional Development and Organizational Competitiveness

Message from the Guest Editors

We are very pleased to launch a call for papers for a Special Issue on Administrative Sciences titled “Digital Entrepreneurship Ecosystems: Integrating Talent, Stakeholder Engagement and Institutional Processes to Support Regional Development and Organizational Competitiveness”. Digital technologies are transforming organizations and societies and creating unprecedented opportunities to create new socioeconomic value. Within the digital era, the pervasiveness of the Internet and the so-called digital convergence have affected most aspects of the business scenario, such as production, distribution, sales, customer relationship, and communication of content, products, and services. The potential offered by the digital transformation allows today to conceive and conduct new entrepreneurial processes and initiatives able to strengthen the competitiveness of companies as well as the economic and social development of regions and territories...

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Welcome to Administrative Sciences, the journal aims to advance and communicate knowledge concerning management theory and practice both in public administration and in profit organizations; it encourages submissions that build on interdisciplinary research in related fields, such as business, economics, political science, gender studies, psychology, sociology, physiology, communication theory or artificial intelligence and their implications on management, organizations and the society. Join us on a journey through the Administrative Sciences, where management merges with innovation.
