Knowledge Management & Social Entrepreneurship

Message from the Guest Editors

The nature of development has changed radically with the increasing knowledge intensity of the contemporary economy. Competitiveness and innovation are highly dependent on processes of intense knowledge dynamism (Fachinelli et al., 2014) aiming to transform and reconfigure knowledge assets, competencies, and resources in an innovative way and to fully exploit the potential for growth.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Welcome to Administrative Sciences, the journal aims to advance and communicate knowledge concerning management theory and practice both in public administration and in profit organizations; it encourages submissions that build on interdisciplinary research in related fields, such as business, economics, political science, gender studies, psychology, sociology, physiology, communication theory or artificial intelligence and their implications on management, organizations and the society. Join us on a journey through the Administrative Sciences, where management merges with innovation.
