

Special Issue

Servant Leadership and Followers' Well-Being

Message from the Guest Editors

Dr. Winston and Dr. Patterson invite you to propose an article for a special issue of Administrative Sciences on Servant Leadership and Followers' Well-being. The special issue will include research that shows the impact of servant leadership on employees' work satisfaction, organizational identity, organizational citizenship behaviors, employee engagement, and organizational commitment. Qualitative and quantitative empirical research studies are welcomed.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Welcome to Administrative Sciences, the journal aims to advance and communicate knowledge concerning management theory and practice both in public administration and in profit organizations; it encourages submissions that build on interdisciplinary research in related fields, such as business, economics, political science, gender studies, psychology, sociology, physiology, communication theory or artificial intelligence and their implications on management, organizations and the society. Join us on a journey through the Administrative Sciences, where management merges with innovation.
