

Special Issue

Building a Sustainable Sharing Economy: Corporate Responsibility, Integration and Innovation

Message from the Guest Editors

The proposed Special Issue, titled “Building a Sustainable Sharing Economy: Corporate Responsibility, Integration and Innovation”, aims to explore the intersection between sustainability, digital transformation, and collaborative economic models. For this Special Issue, we seek contributions that advance theoretical and empirical understanding of how organizations design, implement, and evaluate sustainable sharing models to create long-term value for stakeholders. Topics of interest include circular business models, responsible innovation, stakeholder engagement, sustainable entrepreneurship, and the role of technology in fostering collaborative consumption. Ultimately, it aims to provide a multidisciplinary platform for academics and practitioners to discuss integrated strategies that align profitability with social well-being and environmental preservation.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Welcome to Administrative Sciences, the journal aims to advance and communicate knowledge concerning management theory and practice both in public administration and in profit organizations; it encourages submissions that build on interdisciplinary research in related fields, such as business, economics, political science, gender studies, psychology, sociology, physiology, communication theory or artificial intelligence and their implications on management, organizations and the society. Join us on a journey through the Administrative Sciences, where management merges with innovation.
