

Special Issue

AI for Good

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue explores the positive uses of AI and the social impact it has generated by offering innovative ways to revolutionise industries, economies, and society. We hope that this Special Issue will be a stepping stone to advancing research in this domain, and that it will help to enable collective intelligence for real social benefit. We invite to this Special Issue original research contributions and review papers in the broad field of AI for good including, but not limited to, applications that benefit society and the following topics:

- Adversarial AI to mitigate deepfakes;
- Agentic AI to use AI-driven autonomous agents for decision-making;
- Generative AI to generate models with improved logical reasoning;
- Responsible AI to ensure fairness, accountability, transparency, and bias mitigation;
- Conversational AI to analyse, recognise, and translate speech with assistive chatbots;
- Generative XR to use AI for generating an immersive and engaging metaverse.
