Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

As the field of minimally invasive surgery continues to grow, a vast number of procedures are constantly being tested and validated. Hence, with this Special Issue, we would like to encourage the submission and publication of research that focuses on the description of minimally invasive techniques, their surgical outcome and potential benefits, compared to a standard surgical approach.

Dr. Lavinia Elena Chiti

Prof. Dr. Antonio Pozzi

Dr. Federico Massari
