Interdisciplinary Approaches in Intelligent Engineering and Industrial Processes

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to showcase cutting-edge research and innovative applications at the intersection of mechatronics, computer science, and industrial management. It welcomes original contributions addressing theoretical advances, experimental studies, and practical implementations in areas such as intelligent systems, automation, data-driven engineering, digitalization, industrial processes, and interdisciplinary integration.

We particularly encourage submissions that bridge technology and management perspectives to propose novel solutions for current and future societal challenges. It features selected works from the FDIBA Conference at the Technical University of Sofia and welcomes additional high-quality contributions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the world of science becomes ever more specialized, researchers may lose themselves in the deep forest of the ever increasing number of subfields being created. This open access journal Applied Sciences has been started to link these subfields, so researchers can cut through the forest and see the surrounding, or quite distant fields and subfields to help develop his/her own research even further with the aid of this multi-dimensional network.
