

Special Issue

Advances in Soil and Water Pollution Control

Message from the Guest Editors

The global demand for water is driving researchers to pay more attention to the study of water issues, including water resource security and water quality security. This Special Issue intends to summarize the current status of the research in this field, identify the key challenges, present new ideas, research results, and theories, and publish high-quality, original research papers on the following areas:

- The soil and water pollution processes;
- Groundwater resource security assessment;
- Surface water resources security assessment;
- The groundwater pollution process;
- The surface water pollution process;
- Strategies to control soil and water pollution;
- Soil and groundwater pollution controls ;
- Surface water pollution control.

Keywords

- hydrochemistry
- water pollution process
- water pollution control
- soil pollution
- soil pollution control

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the world of science becomes ever more specialized, researchers may lose themselves in the deep forest of the ever increasing number of subfields being created. This open access journal Applied Sciences has been started to link these subfields, so researchers can cut through the forest and see the surrounding, or quite distant fields and subfields to help develop his/her own research even further with the aid of this multi-dimensional network.

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), Ei Compendex, Inspec, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Multidisciplinary) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Engineering )
