

Special Issue

Information Security and Privacy

Message from the Guest Editors

Our goal is to attract submissions from the multiple disciplines working to address the vast problems that are well-known, as well as those that are just emerging, including researchers and industry practitioners working in legal, policy, ethical, technical, and social domains. This is a broad-scope Special Issue, which will provide a forum where the theory and practice of security and privacy is advanced. We seek to publish empirical and theoretical research, technical papers, surveys, case studies, and tutorials. We also encourage authors to send a short abstract or tentative title to the Managing Editor (chloe.liu@mdpi.com) in advance. Keywords

- information security
- privacy
- vulnerabilities
- countermeasures
- secure communications
- digital forensics
- cybersecurity
- cybercrime
- malware

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the world of science becomes ever more specialized, researchers may lose themselves in the deep forest of the ever increasing number of subfields being created. This open access journal Applied Sciences has been started to link these subfields, so researchers can cut through the forest and see the surrounding, or quite distant fields and subfields to help develop his/her own research even further with the aid of this multi-dimensional network.
