Recent Applications of Big Data Management and Analytics

Message from the Guest Editors

Academic interest in big data studies has grown substantially. However, decreasing the complexity of the data management system to extract optimal insights from large volumes of data is a constant management concern. In this context, the Special Issue on 'Recent Applications of Big Data Management and Analytics' of Applied Sciences encourages research at the intersection of strategic management and big data analytics to better understand how large amounts of data can be managed systematically and strategically to improve the practical implications of data for decision making, prediction, and classification using Artificial Intelligence methods.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the world of science becomes ever more specialized, researchers may lose themselves in the deep forest of the ever increasing number of subfields being created. This open access journal Applied Sciences has been started to link these subfields, so researchers can cut through the forest and see the surrounding, or quite distant fields and subfields to help develop his/her own research even further with the aid of this multi-dimensional network.
